BEYOND THE PAYWALL?

strategic implications of a shifting ecosystem

1! Tradition: Back to IFLA & DDRS Origins

- 28 June-3 July 1926: International Congress of Librarians and Friends of the Book in Prague (first official IFLA in 1927)
- 163 delegates (28 countries, 48 towns, and 88 organizations)
- Key resolutions included ILL (our bold):
- [T]he Prague Congress passed resolutions on the international exchange of publications, on the international inter-library lending service, on the education of librarians, the international statistics of prints and on the need for a world bibliography. As is evident, additional documents were adopted which had a fundamental impact both on the future work of IFLA and on the international collaboration of librarians and the exchange of knowledge, information and experience in all spheres of science, technology and art.

5| Topic and Scope

Program areas: How should we, members of the global DDRS community, strategically respond to a shifting ecosystem in which publishers, libraries, and users are dealing with open access mandates, “big flips”, new options for document search and delivery (beyond P2P and including direct publisher-to-user delivery), cost impediments, and other possible challenges?

6| Conference Papers in IDD

Selected papers from the conference will be published at Information Discovery & Delivery Journal and/or “the idea of an OA journal, of which the original idea came from a colleague in Lebanon” (to be clarified with committee).

The authors are encouraged to submit their conference papers with some extension to IDD; for example, papers about possible strategies for improving “the digital information supply chain, i.e., conception, flows, adaptation, exchange and sharing.”

A stylized white line drawing of a person with their arms raised in a celebratory gesture. The figure is composed of simple, thick white lines. The head is a circle with a small square for a nose and a curved line for a smile. The arms are raised high, with hands open and fingers spread. The legs are also simple lines, suggesting a jumping or dancing motion.
